Informative

You can join other interested citizens and learn from local water experts at this award-winning, unique and informational program. The Water Issues Study Group (WISG), hosted by Mesa Consolidated Water District (Mesa Water), is a fee-free adult educational program for YOU—District customers and community members interested in learning about important local, regional and state water issues.

Interesting

Several critical water issues impact Californians locally, regionally and across the state. Learn about California's and Orange County's water history and your area's current water situation, as well as plans for the future of your water. After attending WISG, you will be a more educated and empowered water user!

Interactive

The WISG program is designed to engage you as an active participant in discussions and tours. WISG features water experts from Mesa Water and other local water agencies.

WISG won't cost you a penny! It starts in February and ends in May with meetings on the third Wednesday monthly, 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., in Mesa Water's Boardroom. Also included is a VIP tour of one or more local Water facilities to give you a behind-the-scenes waterworks experience.
